Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following groups of invention is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1- 11 and 16-17 drawn to isolated nucleic acid and recombinantly derived nucleotide sequence classified in class 536, subclass 23.7.
Further restriction to one SEQ.ID.NO required (see paragraph # 3)
 - II. Claims 12-15 drawn to a vaccine against F.necrophorum comprising the protein and pharmacologically compatible carrier. classified in class 424, subclass 184.1
Further restriction to one SEQ.ID.NO required (see paragraph # 3).

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Group I is directed to DNA and recombinantly derived nucleotide sequence which consists of nucleic acids, Groups II is directed to vaccine composition comprising the protein, which is made of amino acids and pharmacologically compatible carrier. These products are different to each other structurally, biochemically and functionally and are drawn to patentably distinct inventions which have materially different physical and chemical properties and structures as represented by their divergent classes.

Distinct Inventions

3. For each group of inventions I-II (claims 1-17) above, restriction to one of the following SEQ.ID.NO is also required under 35 USC 121. Therefore, election is required of one of inventions I – II and one of SEQ ID NO: 8-14.

Inventions SEQ ID NO: 8-14 are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions; represent structurally different nucleic acid molecules and vaccine comprising protein i.e., polypeptides. Therefore, where structural identity is required, hybridization or expression, the different sequences have different effects. Thus, each sequence is unique and patentably distinct since each sequence has a different structure with specific amino acid or nucleic acid and is identified by a specific SEQ.ID.NO. Restriction is deemed proper because these products appear to constitute patentably distinct inventions. These sequences are thus deemed to constitute independent and distinct inventions within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. Absent evidence to the contrary, each such sequence is presumed to represent an independent and distinct invention, subject to restriction requirement pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 121 and 37 CFR 1.141.

Art Unit: 1645

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed SEQ.ID.NO from any group elected.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, the literature and sequence searches required for each of the Groups are not required for another of the Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Art Unit: 1645
